THE CHURCH OF JESUS CHRIST OF LATTER-DAY SAINTS

"MORMON" PAVILION

NEW YORK WORLD'S FAIR 1964-1965

One of the notable features of the Fair is the unique and appealing "Mormon" Pavilion. Its facade is reminiscent of the world-famed Temple of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in Salt Lake City, Utah. Surmounting the central spire of the facade is a 20-foot replica of Angel Moroni. It stands 127 feet above the ground, one of the highest points in the Fair. Back of the facade is a 16,000-square-foot pavilion with its dynamic exhibits and theatre presentations based on the theme: "Man's Search for Happiness."
